

Antique Roll Top Desk, English, Oak, Victorian, Lock, Tambour, Circa 1900

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 10.1726

This is an antique roll top desk in English oak, late Victorian with locking tambour front dating to circa 1900.

- A fine example with a show back – ideal for centre room placement
- English oak displaying good consistent colour with a desirable aged patina
- Field panelled on three sides
- A suite of drawers dressed with broad wooden pulls
- The lower right hand double, filing drawer with shaped, internal dividers
- A pair of desk extension slides withdraw for extra workspace
- The tambour roll top in superb condition, sliding smoothly
- Drawers automatically lock when the roll top is down
- Benefitting from original working lock and key
- Internally, a series of cubbies, pen and stationery drawers
- To the sides and rear wooden letter rails

Search London Fine for #10.1726 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 122cm (48")
 Max Depth: 81.25cm (32")
 Max Height: 129cm (50.75")
 Desk Height: 77cm (30.25")
 Kneehole Width: 46cm (18")
 Kneehole Height: 63cm (24.75")

