

Antique Display Cabinet, Tall, Victorian, Rosewood, Bookcase, Circa 1900

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 11.3284

This is an antique display cabinet, a tall, Victorian, Rosewood bookcase in the Regency taste, dating to circa 1900.

- Stunning, well figured rosewood in a very attractive pallet
- Desirable aged patina in a wax polished finish
- Luxurious velvet lining to the upper cabinet display area
- With desirable glazed upper display area and cupboard below
- Complete with working locks and keys
- Standing upon a continuous plinth base
- Chamfered moulding at the division and fine crown moulding over
- Twin field panel doors open to reveal useful storage divided into six spaces
- Upper section with twin glazed doors open on brass hinging to a fine display area
- Doors dressed with cast, gilt metal, lock escutcheon with drop handles

Search London Fine for #11.3284 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 99cm (39")

Max Depth: 39cm (15.25")

Max Height: 189cm (74.5")

