

Antique Chest of Drawers, Georgian, English Oak, Circa 1800, Double Depth Drawer

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.5123

This is an antique chest of drawers, a Georgian, English oak piece dating to the early 19th century, circa 1800 featuring a useful, and unusual, double depth bottom drawer.

- Attractive honey tones to the well figured English oak
- Desirable aged patina in the lustre of the wax polished finish
- Of quality craftsmanship and in good proportion
- Raised on bracket feet all round
- The deep top displays well finished with an edge moulding
- Side panels in good order and displaying good consistent colour
- Smooth sliding, cock beaded drawers arranged '2 over 2'
- The bottom drawer double depth with faux double drawer front
- Featuring the original iron locks with key absent
- Dressed with later solid brass drop handles over 'batwing' back plates

Search London Fine for #18.5123, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 100cm (39.25")

Max Depth: 52cm (20.5")

Max Height: 83cm (32.75")

