

Antique, Adjustable Writing Table, English, Oak, Johnstone and Jeanes, c.1850

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.5615

This is an antique adjustable writing table, an English, oak leather top desk by sought after cabinet maker Johnstone & Jeanes of 67 New Bond Street, London. This table dating to circa 1850 around the time of The Great Exhibition.

- Of exceptional quality in the finest timbers
- The oak displays mellow golden tones
- With grain interest and a desirable aged patina
- The adjustable top supported on a ratcheted stand
- The original green leather skiver inset with modest border
- Compartmentalised frieze drawer to one end
- Stamped with the makers mark, original brass lock, key absent
- Raised on delightful, slender, ring turned legs
- Featuring carved, faceted capitols
- Riding upon the original brass castors

Search London Fine for #18.5615 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 61cm (24")

Max Depth: 39.5cm (15.5")

Max Height: 70cm (27.5")

Find out more about Johnstone and Jeanes here...

