

Antique Officer's Field Boot Jack, English, Oak, Campaign Shoe Pull, Georgian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 24922

This is an antique Calvary officer's field boot jack. An English, oak and brass campaign shoe pull with tools, dating to the Georgian period, circa 1800.

- <li class="p1">Fascinating boot aid, ideal for field use in the time of the Napoleonic Wars
- <li class="p1">Displays a desirable aged patina, lightly time-worn commensurate with use

- <li class="p1">Two-piece folding oak frame presents rich caramel hues

- <li class="p1">Opens upon broad brass hinges, the upper set with bracket feet for raising the jack

- <li class="p1">Pair of lace pulling tools reside within the reverse of the frame, held in with sliding clasps

This is a superb antique Calvary officer's field boot jack, a charming example of Georgian campaign accessories. As useful today as it was over 200 years ago. Delivered ready to use or display.

Search London Fine for #24922 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Closed Width: 5cm (2")
 Closed Depth: 28.5cm (11.25")
 Closed Height: 4.5cm (1.75")
 Jack Width: 9.5cm (3.75")
 Jack Depth: 28.5cm (11.25")
 Jack Height: 5cm (2")

LIST PRICE

£495.00

