

Pair Of Antique Hepplewhite Side Chairs, English, Fruitwood, Hall Seat, Georgian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 24943
This is a pair of antique Hepplewhite taste side chairs. An English, fruitwood decorative hall seats, dating to the Georgian period, circa 1790.

- <li class="p1">Superb country house appeal with the distinction of the Hepplewhite influence
- <li class="p1">Displaying a desirable aged patina, lightly time worn with age and gentle use
- <li class="p1">Delightful frames crafted in fruitwood and presenting deep caramel hues
- <li class="p1">Pleasingly overstuffed cushions with a plump, generous seat

- <li class="p1">Striking shield backs, with prominent crest rail and distinctive back splats
- <li class="p1">The crest and lower rails accentuated with relief carvings
- <li class="p1">Seat set at a comfortable height of 47.5cm (18.75")

- <li class="p1">Upholstery ready to be enjoyed as-is for the country house look
- <li class="p1">Could benefit from recovering to personal taste

Search London Fine for #24943 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

- Max Width: 51cm (20")
- Max Depth: 54.5cm (21.5")
- Max Height: 94cm (37")
- Seat Width: 51cm (20")
- Seat Depth: 42cm (16.5")
- Seat Height: 47.5cm (18.75")

LIST PRICE

£2,450.00

