

Large Antique Tree Planter Base, English, Orangery, Patio, Jardiniere, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 24519

This is a large antique tree planter base. An English, heavy stoneware flagon perfect to be repurposed as a patio or orangery jardiniere, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900. A striking and rare example of Doulton & Co's robust craftsmanship.

- Exceptional proportion, ideal as a tree planter or statement decorative jardiniere
- Stamped Doulton & Co Ltd, Lambeth maker's mark with engraved serial number
- Hand-etched tare weight markings in pounds to the tapering neck for authentic industrial charm
- Impressive weight at 48.7kg (107.36 lb), showcasing the flagon's substantial quality
- Tactile cup handles to either side, with a small historic loss to one edge
- Naturally aged finish with appealing patination and light time worn finish
- Remains of an industrial water run-off evident to the lower side
- Presents wonderfully in an orangery, conservatory or garden setting
- Ideal for planting bay or olive trees and other ornamental topiary

Search London Fine for #24519 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

- Max Width: 57.5cm (22.75")
- Max Depth: 46.5cm (18.25")
- Max Height: 74cm (29.25")
- Opening Diameter: 23.5cm (9.25")

LIST PRICE

£1,795.00

