

Pair of Antique Imari Cat Figures, Japanese, Ceramic, Bookends, Edwardian, 1910

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25388

This is a pair of antique Imari cat figures. A Japanese, ceramic fireside ornament or tall volume bookends, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910. Rich in personality and artistry, these feline companions bring an elegant decorative presence to interiors.

- Charming Oriental cat figures, seated upright with tails neatly curled around their paws
- Delightfully expressive faces, with bright, wide eyes and gentle features
- Profusely hand-painted in the celebrated Imari palette of cobalt blue and iron red over a crisp white glaze
- Superb decorative appeal, ideal for fireside display, as bookends, or upon window sills
- In good antique condition, with a desirable aged patina adding to their period charm
- Each figure presents fine ceramic craftsmanship, with well-defined details and smooth glazed finish

This pair of antique Edwardian Imari cat figures are a striking and whimsical duo, offering a delightful addition to any Oriental ceramics collection or decorative interior. Delivered ready to display.
