

Antique Mounted Boot Scraper, English Cast Iron, Bath Stone, Georgian Town House

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25226

This is an antique mounted boot scraper. An English, cast iron and Bath Stone town house shoe cleaner, dating to the Georgian period, circa 1800. A beautifully aged example of Georgian practicality, combining elegance with robust utility.

<li class="p1">Fascinating mounted scraper, showcasing the distinctive quality of late Georgian craftsmanship

<li class="p1">Ornate cast iron scraper adorned with bold, scrolled acanthus motif, deeply cast for visual and tactile appeal

<li class="p1">Scraper width of 12cm (4.75") ably accommodating wide shoes and boots.

<li class="p1">Mounted upon an appealing Bath Stone block, showing desirable ageing and a dusting of historic moss

<li class="p1">Exceptional weight of 31.6kg (69.66 lb), denoting its substantial, enduring nature

<li class="p1">Standalone form ideal for placing beside traditional doorsteps or porticoed entrances

<li class="p1">Perfectly suited to town house or country estate living, offering both function and decorative charm

<li class="p1">Naturally weathered tones with gentle patination, complementing period

+44 (0) 207 1833 511

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 35.5cm (14")

Max Depth: 22cm (8.75")

Max Height: 45.5cm (18")

LIST PRICE

£1,295.00

sales@londonfine.co.uk

E. & O. E.

This antique boot scraper is a fine addition to period The Old Whiteways Cider Factory
Hele, Devon, EX5 4PW

...