DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 24996

This is a fine antique tall Davenport. An English walnut, boxwood and rosewood bureau cabinet, dating to the mid Victorian period, circa 1860. A strikingly decorative and practical writing cabinet, showcasing elegant craftsmanship and rich tonality.

- Superb inlaid example, adorned with boxwood stringing for decorative contrast
- Distinctive tall form with upper cabinet set above a mirror and angled writing slope
- Shaped demi-lune back rest sits proudly atop the whole, adding classical elegance
- Faux drawer fronts to one flank balance the suite of four functional drawers opposite
- Each drawer fascia finished with brass drop handles for traditional appeal
- Lift-up writing surface inset with a tooled and embossed leather skiver, angled for comfort
  - Writing slope opens to reveal a fitted interior, with two small drawers and four arcaded dividers
- Cabinet door fitted with a working lock – key present, securing the upper section
- Fascia and apron decorated with ornate scroll and foliate inlay, in the finest Victorian taste
