

Antique Gents Correspondence Desk, English, Writing Table, Victorian, Circa 1900

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25390

This is a fine antique gentleman's correspondence desk. An English, rosewood writing table with decorative boxwood inlay, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900. Rich in detail and craftsmanship, with versatile storage and a graceful profile, ideal for study or reception room use.

- Handsome stepped form with an upper arcaded back rest and integrated mirror plate for added visual interest
- Crafted from quality stocks, displaying deep caramel hues and striking grain patterns
- Decorative boxwood inlay accentuates the crisp lines and profile throughout
- Canted upper compartments finished with ornate brass galleries – the right side hosting a useful four-division document slide
- Generous tooled and embossed leather skiver presents a comfortable writing surface
- Lower drawer suite features a pair of deep drawers flanking a central full-width drawer, all dressed with inset brass-lined locks – key absent
- Raised upon elegant tapering legs, terminating in brass castors for easy repositioning
- A superb example of Victorian desk furniture with enduring appeal and fine storage capacity

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 101.5cm (40")
 Max Depth: 56.5cm (22.25")
 Max Height: 107cm (42.25")
 Surface Height Width: 74.5cm (29.25")
 Kneehole Width: 89cm (35")
 Kneehole Height: 61.5cm (24.25")

LIST PRICE

£4,950.00

+44 (0) 207 1833 511
 This antique desk is a delightful and p ...

London Fine Ltd
 The Antique Village
 The Old Whiteways Cider Factory
 Hele, Devon, EX5 4PW

sales@londonfine.co.uk
 E. & O. E.

Search London Fine for #25390 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details