

Antique Gents Correspondence Desk, English, Writing Table, Victorian, Circa 1900

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25390

This is a fine antique gentleman's correspondence desk. An English, rosewood writing table with decorative boxwood inlay, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900. Rich in detail and craftsmanship, with versatile storage and a graceful profile, ideal for study or reception room use.

- Handsome stepped form with an upper arched back rest and integrated mirror plate for added visual interest

- Crafted from quality stocks, displaying deep caramel hues and striking grain patterns

- Decorative boxwood inlay accentuates the crisp lines and profile throughout

- Canted upper compartments finished with ornate brass galleries – the right side hosting a useful four-division document slide

- Generous tooled and embossed leather skiver presents a comfortable writing surface

- Lower drawer suite features a pair of deep drawers flanking a central full-width drawer, all dressed with inset brass-lined locks – key absent

- Raised upon elegant tapering legs, terminating in brass castors for easy movement

0144 (0) 207 1833 511

A superb example of Victorian desk furniture with ornate brass galleries – the right side hosting a useful four-division document slide

Search London Fine for #25390 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 101.5cm (40")

Max Depth: 56.5cm (22.25")

Max Height: 107cm (42.25")

Surface Height Width: 74.5cm (29.25")

Kneehole Width: 89cm (35")

Kneehole Height: 61.5cm (24.25")

LIST PRICE

£4,950.00

sales@londonfine.co.uk

E. & O. E.

London Fine Ltd

The Antique Village

The Old Whiteways Cider Factory

Hele, Devon, EX5 4PW