

Antique Occasional Table, French, Centre, Writing Desk, Victorian, Circa 1850

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25333

This is a superb antique occasional table. A French, mahogany centre table or desk, dating to the early Victorian period, circa 1850. Boasting an elegant form, exquisite carved detail, and fine grain interest — ideal as a central feature or a characterful writing table.

- class="p1">French occasional or writing table of generous proportion and timeless appeal
- class="p1">Crafted in mahogany, displaying fine grain interest and deep caramel hues class="p1">Beautifully presented for central room placement or as an occasional writing desk
- class="p1">Wax polished for a desirable sheen, commensurate with careful antique use
- Finely figured tabletop with attractive natural patterning
- class="p1">Serpentine apron adorned with relief carved scroll shell motif
- Concealed drawer to one end, opening smoothly from the apron
- class="p1">Raised upon a graceful quartet of cabriole legs, with subtle knee and toe carvings

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 101.5cm (40")
Max Depth: 61.5cm (24.25")
Max Height: 70cm (27.5")
Kneehole Width: 79cm (31")
Kneehole Height: 59cm (23.25")
End Kneehole Width: 38cm (15")
End Kneehole Height: 59cm (23.25")

FMI4 (0) QUO DCL 83301 11 ble is a striking example of mid 19th Continon Frince Littoriture, exuding presence and classical refinement. Perfect for the Assetique Viltage of Continental flair within a traditional or e ... The Old Whiteways Cider Factory