

Antique Occasional Table, French, Centre, Writing Desk, Victorian, Circa 1850

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25333

This is a superb antique occasional table. A French, mahogany centre table or desk, dating to the early Victorian period, circa 1850. Boasting an elegant form, exquisite carved detail, and fine grain interest – ideal as a central feature or a characterful writing table.

- French occasional or writing table of generous proportion and timeless appeal
- Crafted in mahogany, displaying fine grain interest and deep caramel hues
- Beautifully presented for central room placement or as an occasional writing desk
- Wax polished for a desirable sheen, commensurate with careful antique use
- Finely figured tabletop with attractive natural patterning
- Serpentine apron adorned with relief carved scroll shell motif
- Concealed drawer to one end, opening smoothly from the apron
- Raised upon a graceful quartet of cabriole legs, with subtle knee and toe carvings

This antique occasional table is a striking example of mid 19th century French furniture, exuding presence and classical refinement. Perfect for those seeking a touch of Continental flair within a traditional or eclectic interior. Solid joints and construction delivered ready for the ...
