

Antique Scholar's Desk, English, Writing Table, Side, Study, Regency, Circa 1820

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25334

This is an antique scholar's desk. An English, mahogany writing or side table, dating to the Regency period, circa 1820. A delightful example of refined design and enduring craftsmanship, with elegant proportions and rich tone.

<li class="p1">Handsome Regency period writing table, ideal for the study, library, or drawing room

<li class="p1">Crafted from select mahogany stocks, offering fine grain interest and deep caramel hues

<li class="p1">Writing surface enclosed to the side and rear with a shallow back rest, creating a defined workspace

<li class="p1">Pair of drawers to the fascia, dressed with brass lion mask drop handles for period charm

<li class="p1">Drawer boxes crafted from solid English oak, showcasing traditional dovetail joinery

<li class="p1">Raised upon a quartet of turned legs with collar detail, tapering elegantly to arrow feet

<li class="p1">Offers excellent utility as a writing desk, console, or hallway table

<li class="p1">Gently timeworn surface adds character without compromising

0144 (0) 207 1833 511

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 91.5cm (36")

Max Depth: 52.5cm (20.75")

Max Height: 80cm (31.5")

Surface Height: 77cm (30.25")

Drawer Width: 33cm (13")

Drawer Depth: 40cm (15.75")

Drawer Height: 6cm (2.25")

Kneehole Width: 73.5cm (29")

Kneehole Height: 63.5cm (25")

LIST PRICE

£1,795.00

