

Antique Apothecary Cork Compressor, English, Oak, Wine Bottle, Press, Georgian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25474

This is a fine antique apothecary cork compressor. An English, pharmaceutical press in oak and cast iron, dating to the Georgian period, circa 1800. A distinctive chemist's aid, replete with historical charm and practical form.

<li class="p1">Fascinating Georgian period pharmaceutical tool with a tactile, mechanical appeal

<li class="p1">Crafted from quality cast iron, with an attractive aged patina

<li class="p1">Designed with a four cork press and a smoothly turned handle for ease of operation

<li class="p1">Mounted upon a solid oak plinth, displaying fine grain and caramel hues

<li class="p1">Finished with a leather base protector, ideal for surface preservation

<li class="p1">Superb as a collector's display piece, perfect for apothecary or chemist's curios collections

<li class="p1">Offers versatile decorative potential, even as a conversation-starting door knocker

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 11.5cm (4.5")

Max Depth: 43cm (17")

Max Height: 13cm (5")

LIST PRICE

£695.00

A rare and unusual example of Georgian chemist's equipment, this antique cork compressor presents beautifully and showcases 18th century British pharmaceutical ingenuity. 0207 1833 511

Search London Fine for #25474 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details
The Antique Village
The Old Whiteways Cider Factory
Hele, Devon, EX5 4PW

sales@londonfine.co.uk

E. & O. E.