

Antique Coal Purdonium, English, Walnut, Brass, Fireside Fuel Keep, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25364
 This is an antique coal purdonium. An English, walnut and brass fireside fuel keep, dating to the Victorian period, circa 1870. A fine example of traditional craftsmanship, this handsome piece presents excellent grain interest and enduring functionality by the hearth.

- Traditional Victorian purdonium form, exuding warmth and period elegance
- Crafted from quality walnut, displaying fine grain interest and rich caramel hues
- Tactile brass carry handle, turned and shaped with charming detail
- Small brass pull to the lid, opening smoothly to reveal the internal coal liner
- Removable liner tray for convenient use and maintenance
- Supplied with a lightly timeworn coal scoop, featuring a turned beech handle
- Standing sturdily with a subtly tapered silhouette and rich colouration
- A fine example of Victorian domestic utility, ideal for traditional fireplaces or period décor

This antique coal purdonium offers a tasteful way to manage hearthside storage while adding charming Victorian character to the fireside. A distinguished choice for the collector or heritage interior. Solid joints and construction, delivered ready for the home
