

Antique Devonshire Map, English Framed Robert Morden Devon Cartography, Georgian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25486

This is a small antique map of Devonshire, an English framed cartographic engraving by Robert Morden, dating to the early Georgian period, circa 1720. A charming and historically rich representation of the county, this hand-coloured engraving captures the elegance of early 18th century mapmaking.

Fascinating 18th century map of Devon, brimming with historic detail and charm

Posthumous reproduction of Robert Morden's celebrated work, as published in Magna Britannia by Thomas Cox, 1720

Engraved cartography displays the administrative Hundreds and antique spellings of familiar towns and regions

Hand coloured accents enrich the visual appeal, with delicate tonality throughout

Presented in a tasteful later frame, offering sympathetic enhancement to the period character

Glazed with clear glass, protecting the map while ensuring excellent clarity

Dressed to the rear with mounting wire, ready for immediate wall hanging
A small piece for collectors of early British cartography with a fondness for Devonshire heritage
