

Large Antique Apothecary Weighing Scales, English, Countertop Balance, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25439

This is a fine set of antique apothecary weighing scales. An English, brass, mahogany and walnut countertop balance for the tobacconist or chemist's shop, dating to the early Victorian period, circa 1850. Wonderfully presented with associated weights and charming period detail.

<li class="p1">Delightful Victorian balance scale, ideal for apothecary collectors or decorative shop display

<li class="p1">Appealing brass beam with decorative scrolled fretwork for a distinctive visual flourish

<li class="p1">Suspended twin pans for weighing, with brass finish and lightly timeworn character

<li class="p1">Base crafted from mahogany and walnut, presenting deep russet tones and fine grain interest

<li class="p1">Lower walnut-lined drawer glides smoothly with a circular brass pull

<li class="p1">Replete with associated weights – offers 20g, 10g, and single gram denominations within a charming case

<li class="p1">Beam and fittings display charming aged patina commensurate with gentle Victorian use

+44 (0) 207 1833 511

A captivating item for antique interiors, chemistry enthusiasts or collectors, this apothecary weighing scale embodies elegant 19th century design. The Old Whiteways Cider Factory
 Hele, Devon, EX5 4PW

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 56cm (22")

Max Depth: 27.5cm (10.75")

Max Height: 64.6cm (25.5")

LIST PRICE

£1,895.00

sales@londonfine.co.uk

E. & O. E.