

Large Antique 3-Draw Telescope, Irish, Brass, Leather, Terrestrial, Edwardian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25438

This is a large antique 3-draw telescope. An Irish, terrestrial or astronomical instrument in enamelled brass and leather, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

Perfect for bird watching, landscape appreciation, wildlife, or maritime observation. Equally suitable for observing the night sky.

- Striking and substantial example of Northern Irish optical instrumentation
- Crafted in brass with a black enamel finish, exhibiting a wonderfully time-worn patina
- Primary barrel dressed in aged Oxblood red leather, richly textured and evocative
- Fitted with a 55mm primary objective lens, offering generous light intake
- Sliding sun hood integrates a hinged lens cap for added practicality
- Smooth, firm draw action across the three brass barrels – well-engineered and intact
- Engraved to the rear barrel with 'J. Lizars, Belfast' – a Scottish and Belfast based optical specialist
- A superb statement piece for collectors of Edwardian instruments, or maritime and scientific antiques

DIMENSIONS

Closed Length: 26cm (10.25")

Fully Drawn: 79cm (31")

Objective Diameter: 5.5cm (2.25")

