

Large Antique Planter, Scottish, Ceramic Jardinière, Majolica Taste, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25447

This is a large antique planter, a Scottish ceramic jardinière in the manner of Majolica, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1880.

- Of generous proportion, offering excellent capacity for decorative planting
- Crafted in quality ceramic, presenting a weighty, substantial feel at 15.4kg (33.95 lb)
- Finished in a distinctive slip glaze, with amber, cream and green tones forming a striking palette
- Decorative relief fascia, featuring bountiful urns and grapevine motifs
- Cup handles elegantly integrated into the form, shaped within the glaze itself
- Ideal for interior or conservatory display – perfectly suited for foliage, ferns, or floral arrangements
- Embodies the richness of late 19th century British decorative pottery
  - A statement piece for traditional Victorian, Arts & Crafts, or country house settings

With its ornate detailing and evocative glazing, this antique jardinière captures the charm and character of the Majolica tradition, making for a handsome focal point in any distinguished interior. Delivered ready for the home.

+44 (0) 207 1833 511

Search London Fine for #25447, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 44cm (17.25")
 Max Depth: 28.5cm (11.25")
 Max Height: 36cm (14.25")
 Dimensions:
 Max Width: 44cm (17.25")
 Max Depth: 28.5cm (11.25")
 Max Height: 36cm (14.25")

LIST PRICE

£1,895.00

sales@londonfine.co.uk

E. & O. E.