

Antique Six Seat Country Kitchen Dining Table, English Oak, Refectory, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25531

This is an antique six seat country kitchen dining table. An English, oak ecclesiastical or farmhouse table in Gothic revival taste, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1880.

<li class="p1">Traditional Victorian refectory table with Gothic overtones and fine country character

<li class="p1">Crafted from quality oak stocks displaying fine grain interest and rich caramel hues

<li class="p1">Four plank top with a tiered edge detail for tactile comfort and visual depth

<li class="p1">Of modern dining height, with a comfortable knee-hole clearance of 75.5cm (29.7)

<li class="p1">Distinctive angled supports intersect the stout stretcher rail with confident lines

<li class="p1">Standing upon a pair of long trestle feet with squared toes for stability and proportion

<li class="p1">Generous top comfortably accommodates six guests for daily dining or entertaining

<li class="p1">Ideal for use as a country kitchen centrepiece or ecclesiastical style dining room

04 (0) 207 1833 511

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 149.5cm (58.75")

Max Depth: 103.5cm (40.75")

Max Height: 77.5cm (30.5")

Knee-hole Height: 75.5cm (29.75")

LIST PRICE

£6,750.00

sales@londonfine.co.uk

E. & O. E.

A beautifully proportioned Victorian dining table, rich in rustic appeal, perfect for both traditional and contemporary interiors. The Old Whiteways Cider Factory, Hele, Devon, EX51 4PW

London Fine Ltd
The Antique Village