

Antique Personal Diary Repository, Scottish, Brass, Keepsake Case, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25636

This is a fine antique personal diary repository, originating from Scotland during the Victorian period, circa 1870. This striking book form keepsake case showcases the craftsmanship and decorative style of 19th century Scotland, offering an elegant and secure way to store treasured personal items or books. Crafted from quality brass with rich golden tones and a profusely decorative Gothic design, this piece makes a captivating display item as well as a functional keepsake holder.

- Delightful Scottish craftsmanship with a pleasingly ornate appearance
- Quality brass with rich golden tones and minimal tarnishing
- Striking book form with a profuse decorative finish
- Fascia adorned with Gothic overtones and Scottish thistle motif
- Lid held securely with a hinged clasp, decorated with a thistle
- Highly decorative and display-ready piece of Victorian artistry
- Ideal for collectors of Scottish antiques, writing accessories, or Gothic revival pieces
- Good weight in the hand at 1.44kg (3.17 lb)

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 13cm (5")
 Max Depth: 6cm (2.25")
 Max Height: 19cm (7.5")

LIST PRICE

£895.00

This Victorian book-shaped brass keepsake box is both a statement decorative item and a practical storage solution, ideal for adding a touch of history to your collection.

+44 (0) 207 1833 511
 Search London Fine for #25636

or scan the QR code for more photos and details
 London Fine Ltd
 The Antique Village
 The Old Whiteways Cider Factory
 Hele, Devon, EX5 4PW

sales@londonfine.co.uk
 E. & O. E.