

Pair of Antique Decanter Coasters, English, Wine Bottle Stands, Treen, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25432

This is a pair of antique decanter coasters. An English, carved elm wine or champagne bottle stand in Gothic revival taste, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1890. Handsome examples of Gothic-inspired woodcraft with fine detail and superb patina.

- <li class="p1">Crafted in quality elm with fine grain interest and deep caramel hues
- <li class="p1">Charming relief carved pattern to the rim in the Gothic manner, echoing a petal motif
- <li class="p1">Bowl centres dressed with tactile velvet cushions in a sage green hue
- <li class="p1">Central cushion with a diameter of 10cm, within a 13cm recess
- <li class="p1">Recess offers ample coverage for a typical Jeroboam sized bottle
- <li class="p1">Useful throughout the home or within a retail or hospitality setting

These Victorian carved elm decanter coasters present a delightful blend of after-dinner appeal and Gothic revival taste, offering a decorative and versatile addition to any dining room, lounge or other period interiors. Delivered ready for the home or institution.

Search London Fine for #25432 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 26cm (10.25")

Max Depth: 26cm (10.25")

Max Height: 3cm (1.25")

LIST PRICE

£695.00

