

Antique Corner Umbrella Stand, French, Cast Iron, Hallway Drying Rack, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25435

This is an antique corner umbrella stand. A French, cast iron hallway drying rack, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900. A charming and practical entrance hall accessory, showcasing Parisian craftsmanship with decorative detail and useful proportion.

- Crafted from quality cast iron with a consistent graphite finish
- Shaped for use within the corner of a reception room
- Unusual demi-lune drip tray, designed to catch rainwater neatly
- Tray fascia cast with the lettering 'Déposé' and business address for La Ménagère, Paris

• The store was situated within Les Galeries du Commerce et de l'Industrie on Boulevard Bonne-Nouvelle

- Robust frame with ornamental detail, offering both practicality and decorative appeal
- Ideal for resting umbrellas, walking canes or sticks in an entranceway or hallway

A superb French umbrella rack, this antique stand offers both utility and Parisian elegance, perfect for a Victorian townhouse or refined modern hallway. Delivered ready for the home.
