

Vintage Regimental Mess Coal Bucket, English, Copper, Fireside Helmet Scuttle

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25520

This is a vintage regimental mess coal bucket. An English, copper fireside helmet scuttle bearing the military broad arrow, dating to the mid 20th century, circa 1960. A charming and practical fireside piece with timeless military and domestic appeal.

- Crafted in traditional helmet scuttle form with superb proportion
- Patinated copper presents warm amber hues and a time-worn charm
- Rolled carry handle articulates within shaped hinge mounts for ease of use
- Raised upon a tapering circular footer for stability and visual balance

- Engraved to the base with the military broad arrow and dated 1962
- Suitable for all fuel types, including coal, logs, and kindling
- Ideal for display in a country house fireplace or regimental mess setting

A fine vintage fireside accessory, this regimental copper coal scuttle blends functional design with evocative military history, making it a superb addition to any traditional hearth or collector's display. Delivered ready for the fireplace.

Search London Fine for #25520 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 28.5cm (11.25")
Max Depth: 31cm (12.25")
Max Height: 20.5cm (8")
Handle Raised: 36.5cm (14.25")

LIST PRICE

£495.00

