

Vintage Port Decanter, English, Cut Glass, Liqueur, Spirit Vessel, Circa 1950

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25367

This is a vintage Port decanter. An English, cut glass liqueur or spirit vessel, dating to the mid 20th century, circa 1950. A fine example of classic mid-century barware, offering elegant form and refined craftsmanship.

<li class="p1">Appealing mid-century Port decanter, ideal for the discerning drinks cabinet

<li class="p1">Quality cut glass construction, presenting a bright, clear appearance throughout

<li class="p1">Decorated fascia with a lobed motif and scalloped neck detail for added texture

<li class="p1">Ridged glass stopper sits neatly within the flared rim, offering a precise fit

<li class="p1">Starburst cut to the base, enhancing light reflection and visual appeal

<li class="p1">Comfortable to hold and pour, balancing function and decorative charm

<li class="p1">Perfect for serving Port, Sherry, or fine spirits in vintage style

A handsome English decanter with timeless appeal, this mid-century glass vessel brings refined presentation to any drinks service — a fine addition for collectors of quality barware or cut glass tableware.

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 10.5cm (4.25")

Max Depth: 10.5cm (4.25")

Max Height: 30cm (11.75")

LIST PRICE

£525.00

