

Antique Bootmaker's Display, English, Beech, Riding Boot Stretcher, Edwardian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.9964

This is an antique bootmaker's display. An English, riding boot stretcher mounted on a mahogany plinth, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910. A fascinating example of early 20th century retail craftsmanship, offering both practical charm and decorative appeal.

<li class="p1">Charming display piece, ideal for a shop window or as country house dressing room décor

<li class="p1">Anatomical boot form crafted from select beech, showing fine grain interest and warm caramel hues

<li class="p1">Mounted upon a mahogany plinth with a rich russet finish, providing an attractive contrast in tone

<li class="p1">Original hardware and lettering remain present to the upper section, adding authenticity and period character

<li class="p1">Dressed to the base with a protective suede leather covering

<li class="p1">Displays superb craftsmanship typical of early 20th century English bootmakers

<li class="p1">Perfect as a conversation piece, or for those with an interest in equestrian shoemaking, or retail heritage

+44 (0) 207 1833 511

A delightful antique shop display piece, this Edwardian riding boot stretcher lies the craft, character, and presentation of a bygone age. The Old White Ways Cider Factory

Search London Fine for #18.9964, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 26cm (10.25")

Max Depth: 31cm (12.25")

Max Height: 54cm (21.25")

LIST PRICE

£895.00

London Fine Ltd

The Antique Village

Hele, Devon, EX5 4PW

sales@londonfine.co.uk

E. & O. E.