

Antique Pie Crust Table, English, Tilt-Top, Games, Occasional, Georgian, C.1790

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25714

This is an antique pie crust side table. An English, mahogany tilt-top games or occasional table, dating to the Georgian period, circa 1790. A fine example of 18th century craftsmanship, displaying the period-favourite pie crust form and elegant proportions.

- Select stocks present superb grain interest and warm caramel hues
- Beautifully figured circular top with the distinctive pie crust edge, adding tactile detail and refinement
- Tilting mechanism articulates smoothly through 90°, allowing convenient storage when not in use
- Ideal for parlour games, wine service or afternoon tea, offering both beauty and function
- Tapering support column gracefully unites the top and base, with a cupped accent for visual interest
- Trio of broad cabriole legs, each terminating in pad feet, providing excellent stability and classic Georgian poise
- Displays a gentle, lightly time-worn patina, enhancing the character of this well-preserved example
