

Vintage Umbrella Stand, English, Art Nouveau Revival, Entrance Hall Drip Tray

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25782

This is a vintage umbrella stand. An English, cast metal mimetic example in Art Nouveau revival taste, dating to the late 20th century, circa 1980. This stand offers a decorative and practical addition to any entrance hall.

- Charming example of mimetic design, the umbrella form cleverly representing its intended use
- Crafted in hexagonal, tapered form from quality cast metal with fine definition
- Displays a pleasing, time-worn patina, enhancing the stand's vintage appeal
- Decorated with intricate foliate and bee cast relief detail throughout the fascia
- Looped carry handle branches into a trio of divisions, ideal for neatly housing umbrellas or canes
- Integral drip tray base collects residual water, preserving clean hallway floors
- Circular foot adorned with leaf decoration, providing stability and aesthetic charm
- Resplendent in Art Nouveau revival styling, bringing elegance to any home entrance

This is a delightful vintage umbrella stand, offering Art Nouveau grace and everyday practicality. Delivered ready for use
