

Antique Jardiniere Stand, English, Box Tree, Bush Planter, Georgian, Circa 1750

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25660

This is an antique jardiniere stand. An English, mahogany and brass tree or bush planter, dating to the Georgian period, circa 1750. A delightfully self-contained piece, showcasing the refinement and elegance of Georgian craftsmanship.

class="p1">Select stocks present fine grain interest with rich caramel hues throughout Lift-out brass liner, original in form, showing a gently time-worn patina
Attractive bowed form, offering generous internal capacity for planting Useful tool drawer set to the front — ideal for pruners, twine or small garden accessories

class="p1">Brass drop handles to each side for ease of repositioning class="p1">Raised upon a quartet of squat cabriole legs, terminating in shaped pad feet class="p1">Displays warm colour and desirable ageing commensurate with its mid 18th century origins

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 32cm (12.5") Max Depth: 32cm (12.5") Max Height: 51cm (20")

Liner Interior Width: 24.5cm (9.75") Liner Interior Depth: 24.5cm (9.75") Liner Interior Height: 20cm (7.75")

LIST PRICE

£2,950.00

A superb example of an early Georgian jardiniere, wonderfully proportioned and full of #4400h207 Fle833t516ace an entrance hall, orangery or interiom donderine thruld Solid joints and construction, de ...

The Antique Village