Antique Coal Purdonium, Scottish, Oak, Fireside Store, Gothic Revival, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25694
This is an antique coal purdonium. A Scottish, oak fireside fuel store with Gothic Revival taste, dating to the Victorian period, circa 1870. A wonderfully practical hearth companion displaying distinguished regional craftsmanship.

- Select oak stocks with fine grain interest and attractive medullary ray figuring
- Warm caramel hues complemented by golden bronze fittings
- Tactile rolled carry handle sits prominently atop the lid for easy positioning
- Lid decorated with a square frieze panel, enhanced with a quartet of brass corner mounts
- Brass corners to the panel on the reverse adds further decorative appeal
- Supplied with a coal shovel, featuring a brass blade and beech handle, neatly housed in the side bracket
- Suitable for coal, small logs, briquettes or kindling, providing versatile fireside storage

A charming piece of Victorian Scottish Gothic Revival design, equally practical and decorative beside any fireplace. Solid joints and construction, delivered ready for the home.
