

Antique Presentation Bowl, English, Silver Plate, Ice Bucket, Cooler, Edwardian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25736

This is an antique presentation bowl. An English, silver plate and mahogany ice bucket or punch dish, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910. A grand ceremonial piece of impressive scale and decorative presence.

- Distinguished Edwardian trophy bowl with bright appearance and fine proportion
- Displays a desirable aged patina, lightly time-worn from gentle use
- Excellent reflective brightwork to the silver-plated bowl
- Fascia adorned with relief foliate decoration, featuring flowerheads and oak leaves
- Striking lion mask mounts host the elegant drop handles
- Stands upon a substantial mahogany plinth with fine grain interest and deep caramel hues
 - Unmarked, yet exhibiting the quality and presentation associated with Mappin & Webb
 - Ideal for use as a punch bowl, ice bucket, centrepiece, or award presentation item

This is a handsome and versatile Edwardian presentation piece, combining rich materials with ornamental flair. A superb decorative statement for dining rooms, clubs or refined entertaining environments, delivered ready to enjoy.
