DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25792

This is an antique hospital engraving. An English, framed lithograph of medical interest, dating to the Victorian period and later, circa 1900.

- A fine architectural and historical study of one of London's most celebrated medical institutions
- Charming period engraving depicting St Bartholomew's Hospital, London
- Set within a later, tasteful frame with ebonised and gilt finish
- Presented behind clear, bright protective glass
- Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order throughout
- Scene originally drawn and engraved circa 1830 by Thomas Shepherd and A. Cruse
- Strong architectural detail with excellent clarity to the hospital frontage
- Dressed to the rear with hanging wire for ease of wall mounting
- Ideal for collectors of medical history or those with personal or professional links to St Bartholomew's Hospital
