

Antique Conservatory Table, English, Alabaster Marble, Portico, Veranda, Regency

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25996

This is an antique conservatory table. An English, Alabaster marble and cast iron portico or veranda tea table, dating to the Regency period, circa 1820.

- Pleasingly weathered, with appeal throughout the house or outdoors
- Displaying a desirably aged, time-worn patina from decades of use
- Naturally patinated alabaster marble top, with remnants of aged moss
- Hand-painted stand in a striking blue hue, gently aged in appearance
- Fluted support column uniting the plinth top with the tripod base
- Trio of squat legs with rolled toes and scrolled cast motif

This is a wonderfully patinated antique conservatory table, presenting natural age and charm in abundance. Solid joints and construction, delivered ready for the home or garden.

Search London Fine for # , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 50cm (19.75")
Max Depth: 50cm (19.75")
Max Height: 70.5cm (27.75")

