

Large Vintage Flamingo Picture, English, Framed Print, JJ Audubon, Wildlife Art

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25990

This is a large vintage flamingo picture. An English, framed print engraving of wildlife interest originally by JJ. Audubon (1785 - 1851), dating to the mid 20th century, circa 1960.

- Appealing early-19th century reproduction print with quality studies of the species
- Displaying a desirable aged patina and in good order throughout
- Set within a deep box frame, ebonised in finish and glazed for dust protection
  - Originally illustrated by French-American ornithologist and artist John James Audubon

- Fine print quality with superb colour and definition to the picture
- Name given in English and the Latin classification
- Further embellished with sketches of anatomy, each with a numbered annotation
- Dressed to the rear with hanging wire for ease of mounting

This is a charming vintage flamingo picture, blessed with quality printing and superb colour. A treat for the ornithologist or those with 19th century wildlife art interest.
