

Vintage Mallard Duck Picture, English, Framed Print, JJ Audubon, Wildlife Art

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 25993

This is a large vintage Mallard picture. An English, framed print engraving of wildlife interest originally by J.J. Audubon (1785 - 1851), dating to the mid 20th century, circa 1960.

- Charming early-19th century reproduction print with a quality study of the species
- Presents a desirable aged patina and in good order throughout
- Displayed within a deep box frame, ebonised in finish and glazed for dust protection
 - Originally illustrated by French-American ornithologist and artist John James Audubon

- Fine print quality with superb colour and definition to the picture
- Shows the Mallard duck as male and female, giving notice of the visual differences
- Name given in English and the Latin classification
- Dressed to the rear with hanging wire for ease of mounting

This is an attractive vintage Mallard picture, blessed with quality printing and superb colour. A treat for the ornithologist or those with 19th century wildlife art interest.

Delivered ready to display

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 103cm (40.5")
 Max Depth: 3.5cm (1.5")
 Max Height: 72cm (28.25")
 Picture Width: 91cm (35.75")
 Picture Height: 60cm (23.5")

LIST PRICE

£955.00

