Antique Cambridge Doctor's Smoking Cabinet, English, Smoker's Case, Edwardian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 26099
This is an antique Cambridge doctor's smoking cabinet. An English, oak and cedar smoker's case, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

• Fine cabinetry, with the added interest of being presented to a Cambridge-based doctor
• Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order throughout
• Superb oak stocks present fine grain interest and an abundance of medullary rays
• The whole graced with a delightful warm caramel coloration

• Engraved shield cartouche to the top, as presented to a Dr. George A Johnson
• Gifted from an appreciative former patient to commemorate his service from 1906 - 1928
• Pair of cabinet doors enclose the case, with a pair of unmarked shields to the fascia
• Dressed with an inset, brass-lined lock — in working order, key present

• Fitted interior offers a trio of cedar lined drawers, dressed with drop handles over pierced batwing backplates
