

Pair of Antique Satsuma Vases, Japanese, Ceramic Baluster, Meiji, Late Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 26113

This is a pair of antique Satsuma vases. A Japanese, ceramic baluster urn, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900.

- Great proportion and accentuated with charming figural artwork
- Displaying a desirable aged patina, some minor loss to rim
- Ceramic presented in baluster urn form with ornate decor
- Bright colour palette of reds, yellow and blues add eye-catching interest
- Figural pattern to the bulb form, one holding a traditional Biwa - a short bodied lute
- Striking gilt dragons adorn the neck of each vase, with a bold, relief form
- Fine pattern detail adds further distinction to the rim, neck and circular foot
- A delightful example of famous Satsuma ceramics, popular in the late Meiji period

This is a superb pair of antique Satsuma vases, with delightful figural interest to the quality artwork. Delivered ready for the home.
