- Beautifully reproduced print of the island from a renowned 19th century cartographer

- Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order
- Presented behind clear, bright glass with a brown card border
- Later frame in gilt and ebonised towns, with hanging wire to the reverse

- Superb cartography by Thomas Moule (1784 - 1851) writer, antiquarian and map maker

- Gives excellent detail to the Isle of Man, in the Irish Sea between Ireland and Britain
- Accentuated with the Manx Triskelion emblem - the three legged symbol and a heraldic coat of arms

- Published in an unusual orientation by Moule, with West raised at the top and East lowered

- The map itself is presented inside an elaborate Gothic architectural border
