

Antique Orangery Glasshouse Table, English Cast Iron, Garden, Display, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 26340

This is an antique orangery glasshouse table. An English, mahogany and cast iron garden flower or display table, dating to the High Victorian period, circa 1870.

- Delightful orangery or cafe table with strong visual appeal
- Presents a desirably weathered patina and in good order
- Beautifully figured top presents fine grain interest and warm caramel hues
- Substantial cast iron frame with a pleasingly time-worn painted finish
- Wide top ideal for serving drinks or displaying garden produce
- Top accentuated with attractive foliate brass medallions
- Striking scroll and foliate motif adorns the fretwork side stands
- Legs united by an arched stretcher with decorative knob moulding to the centre
- Unmarked as such, but in the manner and quality of Coalbrookdale

Search London Fine for #26340 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 107.5cm (42.25")

Max Depth: 55cm (21.75")

Max Height: 74cm (29.25")

LIST PRICE

£1,395.00

