

Antique Bureau Bookcase, English, Georgian Mahogany, Circa 1800

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.5587

This is an antique bureau bookcase, an English, Georgian, mahogany cabinet dating to the late 18th century, circa 1800.

- Classic glazed display cabinet over a practical writing bureau
- Generous in size offering storage and display or bookshelf space
- Attractive mahogany showing fine aged tone, well figured with good colour
- Locks present throughout with a key to upper cabinet only
- Upper display/bookcase cabinet provides four adjustable shelves – 2 x half depth
- Behind classic 13 pane, locking, astragal glazed doors
- Fall flap opens on to sliding lopers to reveal a well fitted interior
- A generous desk space backed by a suite of eight cubby holes
- Central cupboard with a secret document drawer either side
- Flanked either side by four cubby holes over three drawers with brass pulls
- Chest beneath features a full width frieze drawer

Search London Fine for #18.5587 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 112cm (44")

Max Depth: 61cm (24")

Max Height: 220cm (86.5")

