

Antique Bureau, English, Georgian, Desk, Mahogany, Late 18th Century, Circa 1790

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.5937

This is an antique bureau. An English, Georgian desk crafted from mahogany in the late 18th century, circa 1790.

- Quality craftsmanship in select mahogany with a polished finish
- Good consistent colour and grain interest throughout
- Generous and comfortable working height with a fitted desk interior
- Benefiting from an inset, gold tooled, English green skiver
- Raised on bracket feet all round with a swagged apron
- A full compliment of four, full width, graduated drawers
- Solid brass handles over pressed brass backplates with acorn decoration
- Florally etched keyhole escutcheons over original locks, key absent
- The fall opens to reveal fitted interior desk space
- The central cupboard flanked by three cubbies either side
- Over a pair of two, broad stationery drawers

Search London Fine for #18.5937 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 105cm (41.25")

Max Depth: 50cm (19.75")

Max Height: 109.5cm (43")

