

Antique Set of Four Dining Chairs, Edwardian, Mahogany, Upholstered, Circa 1910

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 11.3091

This is an antique set of four dining chairs. An English, Edwardian, mahogany and upholstered set dating to the early 20th century, circa 1910.

- Mahogany displays a fine grain interest and a commensurate aged patina
- Rich, dark hues and a consistent colour in a wax polished finish
- Classically patterned textile upholstery in serviceable condition - but showing signs of age and chairs would welcome re-upholstery
- Strong, robust and of quality craftsmanship – suitable for daily use
- Wide, sprung seats and upholstered back providing a comfortable seat
- Nicely resolved padded back displaying interesting, seven bobbin balustrade
- Offering good proportion with a comfortable 47cm (18.5") seat height
- Classic turned front legs with moulded front rail, and shaped and swept rear legs

This is a desirable antique set of four dining chairs. Solid joints and construction, delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home.
