

Antique Clerks Standing Desk, Victorian, Pine, Writing Table, Lectern c1890

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.5969

This is an antique clerk's standing desk. An English, Victorian pine writing table or lectern dating to the late 19th century, circa 1890.

- Select cuts of pine display a desirable aged patina
- A consistent biscuit hue with grain interest throughout
- Angled document desk ideal for reception rooms
- A suite of five large document compartments situated above a pair of cabinet doors
- Lower cabinet featuring a brass lined lock and key
- Inside, a pair of shelves for larger documents, well suited to maps or blueprints

This is a versatile, antique clerk's desk adept for home office or reception hall duties. Solid joints and construction, delivered waxed, polished and ready for service.

Search London Fine for #18.5969, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 104.5cm (41.25")

Max Depth: 57cm (22.5")

Max Height: 134.5cm (53")

