

Georgian Bureau Bookcase, c.1800

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # LFA-1223 This is an antique bureau bookcase dating to the late Georgian period c.1800. A superior quality piece in flame mahogany with good colour and a deep lustrous finish throughout, including several keys and working locks. Elements of the piece are highlighted with boxwood and ebony stringing lifting detail and framing the glorious grain detail. Raised on a plinth base, twin banks of four deep drawers, dressed with quality brass lion head pulls, flank the central kneehole. The kneehole backed by a cupboard with single shelf, enclosed behind a discreet door that features a central cartouche decorated with an heraldic eagle and shield in boxwood marquetry. Above the kneehole, a single drawer with brass rosette pulls reveals an inset secretaire writing slope that elevates on an adjustable rack for comfort. To the side a series of compartments align before a removable pen tray. A small Tunbridgeware treen box a bonus within one compartment! Above the slope drawer, a pair of document drawers with brass drop pulls complete the desk beneath the plinth surface displaying good grain detail framed with boxwood and ebony rope string edge detail. Within the bookcase, three a ...

Search London Fine for #LFA-1223 or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 107cm (42.25")
 Max Depth: 54cm (21.25")
 Max Height: 203cm (80")
 Working Height of Desk: 81cm (32")

