

Vintage Surveyors Level, English, Brass, Theodolite, Ornament, ER Watts, London

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6337

This is a vintage surveyor's level. An English, brass and alloy theodolite, perfect as desk ornament by E.R. Watts of London, dating to the mid 20th century, circa 1940.

- Charming, vintage scientific instrument, pleasingly heavy at 2.75kg (6.06 lb)
- Displays a desirable aged patina
- Black lacquered brass with alloy fixtures in good order
- Adjusts in vertical, horizontal and diagonal directions
- Rotating upon a 360-degree turntable podium
- Objective element measures 35mm (1.5")
- Vernier wheel in brass to the primary barrel
- Vertical adjustment with a knurled control dial
- Marked with the logo and type for E.R. Watts and Son, London
- Serial number reads No. 19737
 - Reverse features engraving for supplying dealer; Agents J. Halden & Co Ltd, Manchester and London

Search London Fine for #18.6337, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 9cm (3.5")
 Max Depth: 26cm (10.25")
 Max Height: 13.5cm (5.25")
 Case Width: 30cm (11.75")
 Case Depth: 14.5cm (5.75")
 Case Height: 16.5cm (6.5")

