

Antique Captain's Uniform Travel Case, English, Shipping, Suitcase, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6432

This is an antique captain's uniform travel case. An English, leather bound shipping suitcase, dating to the Victorian period circa 1890.

- Attractive Victorian travel case
- Displays a desirable aged patina
- Canvas in consistent dark hues and good original order
- Leather bound seam work for lasting stability
- Lid secured by original, leather straps in wonderfully aged condition
- Case dressed with elegant, working brass trunk locks – key present
- Leather handles to each end with riveted strap tabs
- Textile interior present in cream hues with hand drawn, decorative red cross
- Bound leather luggage slip to lid reads H. Ford & Sons of Appledore in Devon.
- Antique travel memorandum label adds further period interest
- Dating to October 27th 1911 and issued by the Great Eastern Railway

Search London Fine for #18.6432 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 80cm (31.5")

Max Depth: 45.5cm (18")

Max Height: 31.5cm (12.5")

