

Antique Salesman's Case, English, Leather, Travel Suitcase, Edwardian, C.1910

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6520

This is an antique salesman's case. An English, leather-bound travel suitcase, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

- A splendid travel companion
- Displays a desirable aged patina
- Leather bound with quality double stitching
- Rich mid brown hues throughout and in good order
- Dressed with brass clasps with working, slide barrel locks key present
- Key complete with small key chain bearing the letter E
- Interior in a bright, cream finish
- Opens upon a pair of leather strap hinges
- \bullet Lid finished with the initials W.B.E.
- \bullet Resplendent with label for the Great Eastern Railway, detailing travel from London Hockley
- Articulated, thick leather handle to top

Search $\underline{\text{London Fine for } \#18.6520}$, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 56cm (22") Max Depth: 16cm (6.25") Max Height: 35.5cm (14")

