

Set of 3, Antique Giant Clam Shells, Pacific, Tridacna Gigas, Display, C.1900

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6548

This is a set of antique giant clam shells. From Pacific waters, this wonderfully weathered trio of natural Tridacna Gigas display shells date to the late 19th century, circa 1900.

- A superb set of decorative shells
- Displays a desirable aged patina
- Each shell resplendent in naturally weathered hues and very good order throughout
- Fine examples of the Tridacna Gigas species, as found in warm Pacific waters.
- The largest example being pleasingly heavy
- Ideal for decorative display or within an ornamental garden or large water feature

This is a fantastic opportunity to collect a set of antique giant clam shells, with fine weathering and high natural appeal. Delivered ready for display.

Search London Fine for #18.6548 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

- Small Clam Width: 58cm (22.75")
- Small Clam Depth: 38cm (15")
- Small Clam Height: 18.5cm (7.25")
- Medium Clam Width: 61cm (24")
- Medium Clam Depth: 46cm (18")
- Medium Clam Height: 30cm (11.75")
- Large Clam Width: 75cm (29.5")
- Large Clam Depth: 55cm (21.75")
- Large Clam Height: 33cm (13")

